Sexual Misconduct

- Sexual Harrassment
- Sexual Assault
- Domestic Violence
- Dating Violence
- Stalking

If Someone Tells You They Have Experienced Sexual Misconduct

What to Do

1. The person's health and safety should be your primary concern. If the person's safety is an immediate concern, contact Campus Security at 641-673-1170 or call 911.
2. If someone tells you that they have experienced sexual misconduct including: sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, first offer them support. Listen to them and encourage them to seek help and counseling as soon as possible.
3. Tear this card at the perforation. Keep this half of the card for your information, and provide the other half to the person who has experienced misconduct.
4. Report the incident to Title IX in accordance with the policy on the back of this card.
5. If there is any question about how to proceed after a conversation with someone who has experienced misconduct, call and consult with the Title IX Coordinator, 641-673-2168.

If You Have Experienced Sexual Misconduct

What to Do

If Someone Tells You They Have Experienced Sexual Misconduct

What to Say

- There are many resources available to help you, both at the college and community. Some resources are strictly confidential.
- I am required by law to connect you to the Title IX Coordinator who will meet with you to help you take care of your own personal safety and your physical and emotional well-being, direct you to resources, and explain your options if you want the University to take action.
- The Title IX Coordinator will keep your information private and will only share it with those who "need to know." You have the right to choose with whom you will speak, what resources you will use, what you will say, and when you will say it.

Nonretaliation Policy

It is violation of University policy to retaliate in any way against a student or employee because he/she/zi raised allegations or was accused of sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking.

Why do I Need to Report?

- To ensure that the complainant has access to all of the available resources.
- To help identify individuals displaying patterns of behavior.
- To identify and address any trends or systemic problems.
- To keep our campus safe.

Who Needs to Report?

All University employees, including students in leadership positions or volunteers, are required to report to a University resource:

- Campus Security, 641-673-1170
- Title IX Coordinator, Greg Hafner, 641-673-2168
- Human Resources, Angie Gambell, 641-673-1076

The only exceptions are those who operate with statutorily-protected confidentiality, (ex., campus counseling). If you have any questions about whether to report, please contact the Title IX Coordinator.
