STUDENT MUST READ AND SIGN BELOW

1. A student may not improve his/her William Penn University GPA by taking courses at another institution of higher learning. Credits earned in transient status are considered transfer work. This work will count toward total credits but will not become part of the student's overall GPA.
2. Hours earned as a transient/dual enrolled student are not defined as hours acquired in residence.
3. It is the responsibility of the transient/dual enrolled student to furnish William Penn University with an official transcript upon completion of this work.
4. Courses passed at another institution will be accepted providing the overall GPA for those courses is 2.0 or above. Only courses with a grade of C- or above will transfer for those students with an overall GPA of less than 2.0.
